PROFESSIONAL RISKS

Part of the UK Corporate Risks Division

Introduction

As anyone who works in a service industry will tell you, the need to deliver a high level of service to customers and clients is imperative if their business is to remain successful. As established Professional Risks specialists, we understand this need and always aim to deliver the highest levels of service at the right cost to our clients.

Tyser's Professional Risks team recognises the dilemmas that confront most professionals on a daily basis. It is our job to remove these uncertainties by delivering the appropriate protection and advice to our clients. Our products and services are always delivered in a well-ordered, efficient, user-friendly manner. Our approach ensures that everyone involved with these highly specialised products understands exactly what is being arranged for them.

Tyser's Professional Risks team will always aim to provide our clients with the most cost effective solutions to risk and risk management issues.

Services

We use our specialist knowledge and expertise to identify areas of risk and assess the levels of cover that are required. With this information we arrange appropriate Professional Liability cover to protect both company and individual assets. In many instances these types of insurance are mandatory, either by regulation or contractual requirement.

Tyser's Professional Risks team understands the complex needs that arise from such requirements and one of the many services that we offer is free Collateral Warranty advice.

As litigation has become commonplace in the 21st century, we have developed extensive Professional Risks programmes to protect our clients. Our ability to deliver the right specialist protection at acceptable levels of cost to our clients makes us a leader in this field.

Tysers' client base is truly diverse. We cover all the major business sectors, including but not limited to:
